Billy the Bird was nervous. In music class today, he was going to have to sing in front of everyone! He could feel the butterflies in his stomach.

·Billy, it's your turn!· his teacher said, partway through music class.

Billy slowly stood up. He could feel his cheeks turning red. He didn't like when everyone looked at him! In his mind, he tried to pretend that he was alone. Then he started to sing.

Everyone clapped when Billy was done. Billy did a great job!
