

The Joy of Forgiveness

When I do wrong, I can go to the Lord with an honest heart. He is holy, loving, and full of mercy. He teaches me to confess my sins, turn from them, and trust His grace. Forgiveness is a precious gift. It lifts a heavy burden and brings peace to the soul. The Lord does not leave me in shame. He is ready to cleanse, restore, and help me walk in what is right.

Because God forgives me, I want to forgive others too. I do not want to hold tight to anger or keep hurt hidden in my heart. The Lord can make my heart soft, clean, and full of peace. His mercy is greater than my failure, and His love is stronger than my fear. In His forgiveness, I find hope, healing, and a new beginning.
