

Walking in Grace

Grace is the kindness of God given to me, even though I could never earn it. The Lord is patient, gentle, and full of mercy. He helps me when I am weak, teaches me when I need wisdom, and gives me strength to keep going. His grace meets me in quiet moments and in hard moments. It reminds me that I do not walk alone. The Lord is near, and His help is sure.

When I walk in grace, I learn to trust God more than myself. I can rise again after failure, because His mercy is new. I can move forward with peace, because His love does not change. I want to live with a soft heart, a faithful spirit, and a life that honors Him. The grace of God is a steady light, and it leads me in the way of hope and truth.
