

Peace in Prayer

Prayer is a gift from God. I can come to Him at any time and speak with an honest heart. I can thank Him, ask for help, seek His wisdom, and lay my cares before Him. The Lord hears His people, and He is near to those who call on Him in truth. In prayer, I am reminded that God is greater than every fear and wiser than every question. His presence brings quiet strength to my soul.

When I pray, my heart grows still and trusting. I do not have to carry every burden by myself. The Lord invites me to rest in His care and believe His promises. He can lead me, comfort me, and fill me with peace. I want prayer to be part of every day, because it keeps my heart close to God and teaches me to walk in faith.
