

Walking in Obedience

Obedience means doing what is right because I love the Lord and trust His ways. God gives good instruction in His Word, and His commands lead me in truth. When I obey, I am not losing something good. I am walking in the wisdom of God. Obedience can be seen in small choices each day, like telling the truth, showing respect, helping others, and turning away from sin. A willing heart honors God.

When I choose obedience, I learn to follow the Lord with joy. His way is better than my own ideas, and His truth keeps my feet from wandering. I want to listen quickly, obey gladly, and remember that God is kind in all He asks of me. A life of obedience brings peace, strength, and a closer walk with the Lord.
