

HOMESCHOOL QUICK REFERENCE

Can I homeschool my child?

- Yes. You can teach without a teaching degree or license. Attendance generally applies from 6 by September 1 to under 18.

Can I choose what to teach?

- You can choose or create your curriculum. Oregon's homeschool law does not prescribe subjects or require you to follow public-school content standards.

Can I choose my schedule?

- You choose the days and hours. No fixed homeschool calendar minimum.

How do I get started?

- Notify your local Education Service District within 10 days of withdrawing from school or the school year's start as applicable. This is generally a one-time notice; notify the new ESD if you move.

Is testing required?

- Use an approved achievement test by August 15 at the end of grades 3, 5, 8, and 10. Initial grace-period and disability alternatives may apply.
- Choose a qualified tester unrelated by blood or marriage. Keep results and supply them if the ESD requests. Scores below the 15th percentile require follow-up.

How Faith Schooling Makes It Easier

- Faith Readers supports K–5 reading and phonics; Grammar Garden supports language and writing; Building Number Sense provides K–5 mathematics.
- Build literacy and math skills and add other subjects your family chooses. Practice pages help you see learning progress. Arrange Oregon's separate approved tests at the required grades.

Official sources — click the underlined links

Official homeschool guidance

Oregon testing and tester information

Official

Reviewed October 8, 2026 • School year 2026–2027