The Missing Puppy

The wind was blowing hard, and the sky was dark. Ben called for his dog, Daisy. Daisy was his little brown puppy. Daisy is scared of storms. She always comes inside before it rains. Then she lies next to Ben until the storm passes. She hates when it thunders.

Today, though, Daisy didn't seem to be inside! Ben ran to the back door and peeked outside. The yard looked empty. "Where could she be?" he asked himself.

Ben grabbed his raincoat and boots. "I'm going out to look for Daisy!" he told his mom. "She's not inside."

"Come back in soon!" his mom said. "It looks like there is going to be a storm. I don't want you to get wet."

Outside, the wind blew leaves everywhere.

"Daisy! Daisy! Where are you?" Ben called.
