

A Chair for Mrs. Gomez

Read the short passage then answer the questions below.

During the school program, Miles saw Mrs. Gomez standing in the back. He quietly brought his folding chair to her and stood instead. She watched the whole event in comfort. No one in the story did anything grand, but the kindness still changed the day. Respect notices the needs of others. Small acts of love often leave a lasting memory.

1. Who needed care or kindness?

2. What kind action was chosen?

3. How did the story turn out?

4. What lesson does the passage teach?
