

The Church Garden

Read the short passage then answer the questions below.

A church planted a garden beside the fellowship hall. The vegetables were not sold; they were shared with anyone who needed food. By harvest time, many tables were fuller because the church had worked together. The people in the passage kept doing the next faithful thing in front of them. Faith grows hands as well as words. History is often shaped by such steady work.

1. Who is this passage about?

2. What faithful action stands out?

3. What result came from that action?

4. What lesson does the passage leave us with?

