Finders Keepers

It was the middle of the day on a bright sunny Saturday, and Jay and his friends Mike and Tony were riding their dirt bikes on one of their favorite off-road trails. They usually didn't ride early in the day or in the evening because hikers and runners liked the trail too, but the hikers and runners generally used the trail in the mornings and evenings.

The trail twisted and turned through some incredible foliage.

Occasionally Jay and his friends would stop to climb a tree and find a comfortable branch to sit on so they could take a break from riding in the heat. They also like to observe the newer bikers as they rode over of the unpredictable bumps on the trail and wiped out. Jay, Mike and Tony did have their mischievous sides.

On this particular day, Jay and the boys were perched in one of their preferred trees when Jay spotted something shiny on the ground. "What do you think that could be?" he asked Mike and Tony as he pointed out the object reflecting the sun.

They all hopped down from their individual branches and went to take a closer look. What they found was incomprehensible to them. It was a gold money clip holding five hundred dollars.

Mike immediately exclaimed, "Awesome! We can split up the money, and we will each be much closer to being able to buy the new bikes we want."
